CONSTRUCTION & DEVELOPMENT | LONDON W14 | RAPID MOBILISATION

Illustrative Servis team briefing. Project account: 100 Kensington.

Rapid mobilisation. Security continuity maintained.

When the main contractor entered administration, this major West London residential development faced an immediate security gap. Servis was brought in at short notice to establish a professional presence while the project moved through a period of transition.

01

The challenge

An exposed construction site needed protection against unauthorised access, theft, vandalism and damage while new delivery arrangements were being established.

02

The response

Servis mobilised SIA-licensed security officers and specialist K9 support. The service combined visible deterrence, perimeter protection and controlled access as handover requirements evolved.

03

The outcome

Security continuity was maintained through the transition. The project team retained a controlled, professional site presence while a new delivery structure was put in place.

THE RESULT

Visible site control and continuous coverage during a critical project transition.
