

Shotton Mill

INDUSTRIAL | DEESIDE, NORTH WALES | COMMERCIAL CLEANING

Shotton Mill, Deeside, a major £1.4 billion redevelopment for Eren.

Supporting Shotton Mill. A cleaning operation built for scale.

Servis delivers a dedicated commercial cleaning service at Shotton Mill in Deeside, North Wales, where Eren, a major Turkish packaging and paper group, is transforming the former paper mill into a new containerboard and tissue production plant. Our expert-trained cleaning operatives bring the discipline, capacity and flexibility this landmark £1.4 billion project demands, maintaining exceptional standards across a live, fast-moving site as it progresses through construction, installation and commissioning.

01

20+ expert-trained operatives

A dedicated team of expert-trained cleaning operatives works across every area of the site, delivering consistent, high-quality results to exacting standards. Fully inducted and closely supported by on-site management, the team is built for a coordinated, efficient and dependable service, day in, day out.

02

Built to perform in a live construction environment

Shotton Mill is an active, fast-evolving site, with construction, installation and commissioning under way across multiple areas as the new production plant takes shape. Our team works in close step with site management, adapting rapidly to shifting priorities, access restrictions and live works, without compromising on standards.

03

A trusted, long-term partnership

As the project advances towards completion, we continue to deliver a dependable, professional cleaning operation that keeps working areas clean, orderly and safe. Clear communication, responsive management and a proactive approach underpin a genuine partnership with the site team.

OUR OPERATIONAL PRIORITY

A dependable, expert-trained team. One cleaning operation, built for scale.
